Close and Fast Workout.

In preparation for the week-end basketball tilt, in which they will play central roles, the Albuquerque Business college boys and girls teams joined with the University of New Mexico teams in practice games last night.

The boys' game was close, fast and exciting. The Business College girls, however, ran up a big score on the Highland Indians.

The girls' basketball championship of the state will hinge on the coming meeting of the Business College six and the girls of Las Vegas Normal.
They will play at the armory Friday night. The other half of a double bill will be furnished by the Las Vegas boys and the U. N. M. girls.
On Saturday night the A. B. C. boys and the Las Vegas girls will play. If the Vegas girls win Friday night, thus tying the record with the A. B. C. girls, the championship rubber will be played as the second game Saturday.
If the A. B. C. girls win Friday and clinch the title, the Vegas girls will play the University girls Saturday.

FLYING SQUADRON TO HOLD TEMPERANCE MEETING HERE

Noted Prohibition Workers, Touring 250 Cities, Will Be in Albuquerque March 30, 31 and April 1.

Six meetings in three days will be held in Albuquerque by the Flying Squadron of America, an organization of well known temperance speakers touring 250 principal cities of the country in the interest of nation-wide prohibition, on March 30 and 31 and April 1. In addition to speakers of note music will be made a feature of the meetings.

A. B. Stroup is general chairman for the Albuquerque series of meetings which will be held each afternoon at 2:30 and each evening at 7:30. The evening meetings will be held in the high school auditorium.
The place of the afternoon meetings will be announced later.

The plan of the Flying Squadron is unique in the history of the United States. It is headed by former Governor J. Frank Hanby, of Indiana, one of the most powerful prohibition speakers in the United States. It is organized in three groups, each group complete within itself. The first group will conduct the meetings of the first day, and pass on to the next city, its place being taken by the second and third groups in succession.
In addition to speakers of national reputation each group has with it musicians.

The first group consists of Daniel A. Poling, associate to the president of the world-wide Christian Endeavor movement and citizenship superintendent for that great organization; Rev. Charles M. Sheldon of Topeka, Kan., author of "In His Steps," a book which has been translated into seventeen different languages and has a circulation of millions. Accompanying the group are Rev. Daniel A. Poling of Dallas, Ore., one of the great chorus leaders of the west, and William L. Patton of Portland, Ore., pastor.

In the second group are Dr. Ira Landrith, president of the Ward-Belmont college, former moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly and presiding officer of the International Y. M. C. A. convention; Rev. Wilbur E. Sheridan, general secretary of the Epworth League of America; Dr. Carolyn E. Geisel, member of the public health committee of the American Federation of Women's Clubs and a Battle Creek physician of twenty years' practice. The musical director with this group is Frederick Butler, one of the world's foremost interpreters of religious music.
While Mrs. Butler is at the piano,

In the third group are Governor Hanby, Oliver Stewart of Chicago, former member of the Illinois legislature and a prohibition lecturer of note, and John B. Lewis of Boston, former member of the Massachusetts legislature and a retired shoe manufacturer of Boston, who has devoted many years to humanitarian work.
He is treasurer of the Squadron and has personally given $10,000 towards the expense of the campaign. Miss Vera K. Mullin, formerly on the concert stage, is soloist with this group.

The Flying Squadron is not only unique in its plan of operation, but also in its make-up. It is an independent organization, not under the direction of any existing temperance organization but friendly toward them all. It is working for a united front by the temperance forces with the avowed purpose of securing the national prohibition amendment by 1920. It includes in its make-up men of all political parties and all religious faiths.

While working primarily for national prohibition, the visits of the Squadron have been of powerful effect in other sections of the country in local fights against the saloon.
Starting in Illinois, the Squadron was moved to the far west, the middle west and the east, and is now carrying its work into the principal cities of the south.

With a wide variety of speakers, every phase of the liquor question is touched on by the Flying Squadron and covered fully. It is advertised as a convention on wheels, bringing to those temperance people who cannot attend the great national gatherings on the subject, the fruits of experience gained there. The meetings are not only educational, but also inspirational.

HEAVY SENTENCES FOR SIX TAKEN IN A RAID

Black-and-White Drinking Bout Broken Up by Police at East Marquette Avenue House.

Four men and three women arrested in a raid last night were arrayed before Justice McCallen, acting city judge, in police court this morning. William Martin, Henry Ward, Frank Scott, Corinne Sheppard and Maude Lewis, all colored; Hattie Smith, white, and Jesus Martin, were the prisoners. They were all given $10 and 30 days, with the exception of Maude Lewis, who was released under a suspended fifteen-month sentence on payment of a $10 fine.

The raid was made on a house on East Marquette avenue, by Chief Mc-Millin and Captain Pat O'Grady.
Complaints were received from neig-bors on several occasions, and the police waited until the time was ripe for a descent. The prisoners are alleged to have been caught in the midst of a "soiree party."

A TIP TO THOSE WHO NEED PAINTING DONE

There is just as much chance for loss and grief in having painting and paper hanging done as there is chance of joy. It all depends on how the work is done. A first class job of work, with good materials and good taste in harmonizing colors, brings joy to the person who is having his house, store or rooms done over.

Bennett & McQuerry are experienced painters and paper hangers and they employ more butchers to work for them. Call them at 1886 and they will come to see you. All their work is guaranteed.
